

ACS CAN Rhode Island 8th Annual Research Breakfast

The American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network (ACS CAN) will host its 8th annual Rhode Island Research Breakfast on Friday, November 12th from 7:30am – 9:30am (Breakfast: 7:30am | Program 8:00 am – 9:30am) at the Providence Marriott (1 Orms St). Like year's past, the breakfast will bring together key leaders and decision makers in government, research and academia to discuss the cancer research and innovation happening in Rhode Island.

ACS CAN champions cancer research breakthroughs and hope for patients.

Support for this event highlights your commitment to saving more lives from cancer. Join us to network, build relationships with business, medical research and health care leaders, and support ACS CAN's mission and impact.

Our 8th annual event will highlight:

Discovery. Researchers from Rhode Island institutions are playing a key role in cancer research advancements, but what does the future hold for federal investment in medical research? Will current funding support the flourishing discovery pipeline?

Innovation. Rhode Island is home to a growing biomedical and life science industry sector. Advancements in medical research have unleashed new and improved therapies that are revolutionizing cancer care.

Translating Action Into Influence. Eliminating cancer relies as much on public policy as it does on medical research. Cancer fighting public policies such as sustained investments in medical research, stronger efforts to reduce tobacco use and improved access to care help ensure our innovation ecosystem stays strong and patients and families receive the care they need.

American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network

ACS CAN is the nonprofit, nonpartisan advocacy affiliate of the American Cancer Society and is the nation's leading cancer advocacy organization working every day to make cancer priorities a state and national priority. ACS CAN is committed to ensuring that our progress on critical policy issues is achieved in collaboration with key partners. We invite you and your organization to join us in the fight against cancer by attending this event, participating as a speaker or becoming a sponsor of the 2021 policy event.
