

Help end cancer as we know it, for everyone, by ensuring the highest possible funding increases for cancer research & prevention programs.

Throughout the year, advocates have been asking Congress to ensure the highest possible funding increases for cancer research and prevention programs in the FY24 spending bill. As Congress once again moved final funding decisions, this time into next year, it's important for ACS CAN to keep the drumbeat going strong and ask that Congress not forget these important funding priorities in the new year.

Progress in the fight against cancer is at risk without sustained funding increases for these vital programs. When Congress returns in the new year, it's imperative they make funding cancer research and prevention programs a top priority.

Take one minute to call your U.S. House Representative and U.S. Senator to ask them to support the highest possible increases for cancer research & prevention programs in the FY24 spending bill.

Call your lawmakers today!

1. Call 202-224-3121 or text funding to 73508 to be connected to your lawmakers office;
2. Let the switchboard know which office you would like to speak with;
3. When the staff member answers, follow script (or leave a message if you get a voicemail);
4. Stay on the line to make another call.

My name is [your name] and I live in [city]. My address is [your street address, so the office can verify you are a constituent].

As a constituent and volunteer for the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network (ACS CAN), I'm calling to ask [lawmaker name] to please help end cancer as we know it, for everyone, by ensuring the highest possible funding increases for cancer research and prevention programs are realized in the final version of the FY24 spending bill. Please work in a bipartisan way to make this a national priority. Progress in the fight against cancer is at risk without immediate action.

Thank you.
