

Federal funding is helping researchers at cancer centers across the United States discover new treatments. But if Congress cuts funding and research stops, promising new treatments may never reach patients. With 1 in 2 men and 1 in 3 women diagnosed with cancer during their lifetime, we can't afford to let our investments go to waste.

Text RESEARCH to 30644 to join us in urging Congress to protect cancer research funding and save lives.

Standard text messaging rates apply.

