

DON'T LET PROMISING CANCER TREATMENTS GO TO WASTE.

Federal funding is helping researchers at cancer centers nationwide discover new lifesaving treatments every day. But sequestration cuts scheduled to take place on March 1 could have a devastating effect on this progress. That means new lifesaving treatments may never reach patients. With 1 in 2 men and 1 in 3 women diagnosed with cancer during their lifetime, we can't afford to lose momentum in the fight against cancer.

Congress, protect cancer research funding and save lives.
